

Release Forms and Guidelines for Mission Explorers Africa: The Musical

There are two sets of release forms and guidelines below: Public and Private.

Every organization producing this musical must decide whether to go public with the DVD it produces of the musical or to keep it private.

The public release form and guidelines allow producers Carey and Lisa Kinsolving to post part or all of an organization's musical performance on the Internet, TV or other public media. This can greatly encourage other churches, Christian schools and home school groups who are thinking about offering Mission Explorers Africa: The Musical to their children. It's also fun for your relatives and friends because they can see your performance online as many times as they wish.

The private release form prohibits producers Carey and Lisa Kinsolving from posting any part of an organization's performance online or on any other public media. If they are planning a video project for which they are looking to cast a child, they will review your organization's performance of the musical on DVD only for the purposes of finding the child for the role they are seeking to fill.

Mission Explorers Africa: The Musical

Public Performance Guidelines (Posted at www.KidsTalkAboutGod.org/africa)

1. Eligibility: Children ages 5-11 may audition at a church, Christian school or home school group that is licensed to produce Mission Explorers Africa: The Musical (MEAM). In order to participate, children must submit a completed release form (see next page of this document) signed by a parent or guardian.
2. Goals: The main goal of these auditions and performances is to bless children who perform in them and the audiences who attend the performances. The purpose of both the video and the musical is to introduce children to African sites, animals, customs, culture and to some of the missionaries who serve there. The original Mission Explorers series proved that children like to learn about mission work when seen through the eyes of one of their peers. Please visit the following website to view the original series:
www.KidsTalkAboutGod.org/missionexplorers.
3. Video: Videos of each performance of Mission Explorers Africa: The Musical (MEAM) may be the means by which children will audition for any available roles in upcoming video projects. Videos of musical performances that show your child may appear on the Internet, television and other public media.
4. Liability: Each church, Christian school or home school group performing MEAM should have a license to use the material in the musical. Parents/guardians of children auditioning/performing in MEAM recognize that Carey & Lisa Kinsolving do not have any supervisory capacity over auditions, rehearsals or performances and therefore have no liability with regard to accidents or other unfortunate incidents that may occur.
5. Facebook: All major news for MEAM will be posted on Facebook.com/kidstalkaboutgod. Please go to this Facebook page and like it and share it. Social media via Facebook is the major way news about this musical and audition will spread. Please ask your friends to like this page and share it.
